Allie,

Congratulations again on Primary Partners being named as Darwin Health's 2016 South Atlantic Division ACO of the Year.

Our proprietary model used to rank ACOs is built from quality measures reported to CMS in 2015. Unlike CMS' quality score, we do not add bonus points for year-over-year improvement. Further, our model puts increased weight on patient-reported outcomes, readmission rates, and unplanned admissions. ACOs eligible for the ACO of the Year award had to demonstrate exceptional quality as well as shared savings.

We are a research-based management consulting firm focused on health care delivery and emerging payer models. Our goal with the ACO of the Year program is to highlight the accomplishments of providers who are leading the way. With shared savings and outstanding quality, Primary Partners is a leading example of what accountable care is all about.

I wish you continued success.

Sincerely,
